

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What are the benefits of the ACGlobePlus Program?

In addition to detailed account statements and 24/7 access to DataMine, the ACGlobePlus Program offers a company a corporate payment solution that provides rebate savings (ACGlobePlus Purchase Rebates) on all charges made using the Air Canada ACGlobe Corporate Payment Solution. DataMine is a secure online transaction portal that allows all ACGlobe customers to view and run reports on all their transactions. Additionally, you can quickly and easily check your ACGlobe Account balance in real-time via DataMine.

ACGlobePlus Purchase Rebate Program provides:

- 1.5% rebate on all purchases where the flights are operated by Air Canada, Air Canada Express or Air Canada rouge.
- 1.0% rebate on purchases where the flights are operated by another airline, including those flights marketed by Air Canada, but operated by a partner airline.

The ACGlobePlus Purchase Rebates are awarded on a calendar quarterly basis to your company in the form of an Air Canada Gift Card. Your company can opt to receive its Air Canada Gift Card as a plastic Gift Card or an eGift Card. ACGlobe Customer Service will verify this with you upon your company set-up. ACGlobe Customer Service is the customer service centre for both ACGlobePlus and ACGlobe.

2. What are the benefits of the ACGlobe Program?

ACGlobe Program members have secure access to detailed transaction and management reports that will be available 24/7 through DataMine.

There are no annual subscriber fees associated with the ACGlobe Program and your monthly account statement covers a billing cycle of 28 days. Payment of the billed amount is to be made in full within 10 days following the statement date.

In addition, all ACGlobe customers (via DataMine) have access to various monthly financial reports that can be customized to various reporting requirements at no additional cost. Real-time access to your company's credit limit and account balance is also available in DataMine.
