

This coverage is intended to supplement traditional out of country emergency medical travel insurance for COVID-19 and related conditions. You should arrange for other traditional out of country emergency medical travel insurance to help protect yourself against the cost of unexpected medical emergencies when travelling.

COVID-19 Emergency Medical Certificate of Insurance - Air Canada

FAQs

The COVID-19 Emergency Medical Certificate of Insurance – Air Canada (The “Air Canada COVID-19 Plan”) is designed to help cover medical expenses if you have tested positive for COVID-19 in your destination.

Questions related to mandatory testing and vaccination can be found starting at Question 11.

1. Who is eligible for the Air Canada COVID-19 Plan?

- Maximum Trip duration is 21 days (including the date you leave Canada and including the date you return to Canada).
 - If your trip is 22 days or more, you are not eligible for this coverage
 - If you change your initial booking to exceed 21 days before leaving Canada or while at your destination, you are not eligible for this coverage.
- All travellers of any age are eligible if they meet the following requirements:
 - Must a resident of Canada;
 - Must be covered by a Government Health Insurance Plan for the entire duration of your trip.
 - Must not have been advised by a physician not to travel.
- Your new booking must be for an international round-trip with an Air Canada ticket (number must start with code 014) issued between February 1, 2021 and April 30, 2021 for travel completed by September 7, 2021 and must include at least one flight marketed or operated by Air Canada.
- Each passenger on a booking must be an Aeroplan Member and have a valid and unique Aeroplan number associated with their ticket before checking in to the first flight that departs Canada. This eligibility requirement is not applicable to children less than 2 years old. Minors can only be enrolled in the Aeroplan Program by their parent or legal guardian.
